

Love Notes by Brynn Paulin: North Springs Series, Book Two

It's only dreams of you that have gotten me through this deployment. I want you in my life now and forever. I've waited for years. Don't make me wait another day! Widow Rachel Foster has done just fine getting by since her husband died from cancer ten years ago. She has her friends and her job to occupy her time. Sometimes, she's lonely, but without close attachments, she doesn't fear losing someone she loves. Besides, the only person she's remotely interested in is completely unattainable. Or so she thinks. Jason Hamilton has loved Rachel for years, waiting until he could prove himself mature enough for this woman ten years older than him. Fresh off a deployment in the Middle East, he's sure the time is now and he's equally sure she's interested. He hopes so, because only his secret love letters to her got him through the longest eighteen months of his life. Now, he's ready to make the fantasies in them come true.

ON JULY 8, 2015 Once upon a time, in a land bordered by a lush, dark wood, there ruled the kind but simple king, Gwirion. Fortunately for his kingdom his young queen, Bywyd was as sharp as he was dull. She advised him in all matters of state, and benevolently attended concerned citizens and visiting dignitaries alike, always with a graceful nod to her husband and a quiet "May it please your Majesty." So it was that they ruled in peace for many years troubled only by the lack of Ysbryd-ane an heir to carry on the divine dragon blood of Gwirions ancestors. When Bywyd found herself full with child at last she rejoiced that their kingdom would be secured, their rule assuredly peaceful for the rest of their lives. And when the child was born, with raven black hair so dark against eyes as blue as lightning and skin as pale as snow, they called her Eirwyn and raised her to understand the five aspects of the dragon that she must ever personify to rule her people. Before her sixth birthday, Eirwyn was already tired of the dusty words she had learned by rote.
